Bol Bachchan movie download in kickass torrent India is a beautiful country with a rich culture and historical background. Every region of the country has its own distinct identity which is also reflected by the language, clothing, food and architecture. Some of the popular languages in the country are Hindi, Punjabi and Tamil. The country of India is inhabited by many people from different ethnic backgrounds like the British and the German. The British were the first to rule the country of India, and the rule of the Britishers ended in 1947. Today, India is ruled by a different nation- it is called the Republic of India. Majorities of the people in India are Hindus, Muslims and Sikhs. The government of India has different ministries and departments to look after the welfare of the people. The different ministries are: Ministry of Home Affairs Ministry of Defence Ministry of Environment Ministry of Education Ministry of Finance Ministry of Finance The government of India is also responsible for the Indian Railways. Railways are known to be the first, the fastest and the safest means of travel. For any one who wants to travel on the Indian Railways, he has to pay a nominal fare of INR60-100 (depending on the class). Other than that, a person has to carry a valid ticket with him. It is the responsibility of the railways to have all the trains running on time. If a train is delayed by any reason, then the authorities make sure that the passengers get their money back or else they get a refund. The government also provides different scholarships and benefits to students. India has a rich culture and history. The country has always been a land of diversity. The people of India are very independent, and are very difficult to be controlled. This is the reason that the country has been ruled by different empires in the past, but always managed to keep it together. This however, does not mean that the country is united. The people from different regions have been in conflict with each other, and the only solution to the conflicts has always been violence. The people of India are mostly not involved in politics, but there are some political parties in the country. It is said that the people of India are wise,
