It’s going to be an unusual one as it will be marked on the anniversary of the 1916 Rising as well as Ireland’s first official observance of the World Irish Language Festival on the Monday. Maura Jennings (Ceann Comhairle) Of course, the Ceann Comhairle, Maura Jennings, has said she will do her best to ensure that everything runs smoothly. Speaking on Today with Pat Kenny, she said: “I would like everyone to do their bit so that everyone has a good time. There is an enormous amount of planning.” She stressed that she wanted people to be able to enjoy the events and services which will be taking place. “It is a very exciting time for us and for the city of Dublin.” The Ceann Comhairle added: “I will make sure that all of the plans are adhered to and that everything goes as it should.” “I have done my bit as much as I can” Regarding events which have been proposed over the past few weeks, Maura told Pat Kenny: “I am aware of the events that are coming up. I have just been told and, of course, I will be doing my bit.” She also said that it would be a great honour to be involved in what is going to be a commemorative event: “I am thrilled to be part of it. There is a lot of planning for it.” “Everyone should do their bit” The Ceann Comhairle called on people to get out and enjoy the Easter celebrations which will be taking
