opportunity cost of public funding of university education, since the money spent could be spent on alternative programs, ie. healthcare. In conclusion of this chapter, it should be noted that at present significant changes have taken place in the education system of Russia. In connection with the development of market relations in our country, as in all countries with a developed market economy, education began to turn into a commodity, into a "sale of knowledge". As a result of these changes, the education system in our country has also changed: the content of education, teaching methods and the structure of the curriculum, methods of remuneration of teachers
